

New England School of Fine Art Presents
Beginning Plein Air Landscape Workshop
with Cate Hunter Kashem

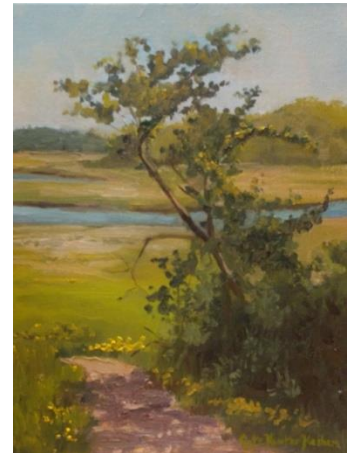

What the eye sees is not always what the camera sees. Outside, inspiration is vivid and direct. There is no better place to begin your landscape painting journey! In this 3-day workshop, we will explore landscape painting outdoors, also known as “plein air” painting. Each day will include a demonstration, as well as individualized critiques. For the absolute beginner, we will cover the basics from setting up your materials to choosing a subject. For those with some experience, we will focus on meeting you where you are and developing confidence and skill. Drawing, design, values and color will be discussed. We will work on multiple canvases per day to account for the changes in light. At the end of the workshop, students will have several oil sketches and a good foundation for outdoor work.

Times: 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Dates:
August 8-10 (August 11 - make-up date)

Cost: $190 per person
To register, please go to www.nesfa-worcester.com

Local locations are to be determined. Students are responsible for getting themselves to the painting sites. Please come prepared to spend the day outdoors. In the event of truly hazardous conditions, we will hold class in the studio. In case of other unavoidable circumstances, such as instructor illness, we will hold class one day longer (the make-up dates are listed.)

Materials are not included and are the responsibility of the student. Students will receive a materials list upon registration. Please check your spam folder if you do not receive a materials list.

Student Cancellation Policy: Any cancellation received outside of 30 days will result in a 20% cancellation fee. Cancellations within 30-8 days out will result in a 50% penalty. There are no refunds for any cancellation received one week prior to the start of the class.
