

New England School of Fine Art presents

Drawing Fins, Feathers & Fur

With instructor Jennifer Behymer

Learn a range of drawing techniques to capture the personality and form of a diverse variety of wildlife. The class will cover how to achieve the textures and value of scales, feathers and different types of fur along with how to get the correct anatomical shape of a range of animals. Students will work from provided reference photos in either graphite or charcoal. We will also cover what makes a good reference photo to get a successful animal portrait.
